

There was a time when every one of us were what we might call pre-Christian. This would be the time before we came to know who Jesus is and before we accepted him as our Lord. During that time, most of us would never have come to Christ if it were not for someone, a friend or a relative, that gave us the opportunity to make that choice.

It might have been an offer to go to church or maybe to a church function. It might have been a conversation you had with that individual. Regardless of the manner, the bottom line is that you came to know Christ because of that person.

Now imagine you have a friend or relative right now who is also pre-Christian, like you were then. It might be possible that you are the only person in their life who knows Jesus. Have you made it easy for them to reach out to you? Have you invited them to church? Have you invited them to speak with you regarding spiritual things? Do they know they can speak to you about these things? Do they know you are a Christian?

Everyone needs to be reaching out to those non-Christians they see every week. We need to let people know that we are available to them for this purpose. There is no more important thing in our lives than this. It is one of the reasons God has placed us where we are.

If you have not yet picked up some invite cards, take some today. Watch to see who God is working in. Are they asking spiritual questions? Are they seeking things of God? Speak with them! Hand them an invite card and let them know we are available to them. Sometimes we get embarrassed to speak to others about God. Don't be. Where you would be if someone didn't do it for you? They will be as grateful as you are.
